

Asia-Pacific Shorebird Network Leg flags used on local flyways

The position of the metal band is not required to determine the flagging location, and may vary from that shown.

For two-colour flag combinations the flag position sometimes varies as follows:

- On large waders, the flags are usually both placed on the tibia
- On smaller waders one flag is placed on the tibia and one on the tarsus.

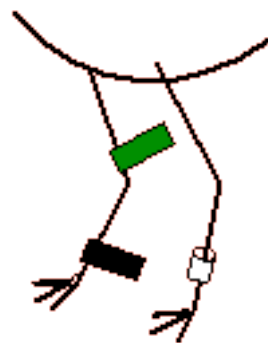

All reports of flag sightings will be replied to, even if you see the same flag colour many times. Please report all sightings. Report all sightings to mintons@ozemail.com.au .
